

The Daily Devil
Day 1: 15th December

This is ten percent luck, twenty percent skill Fifteen percent concentrated power of will Five percent pleasure, fifty percent pain
And a hundred percent reason to remember the name “FORT MINOR”

10 o'clock came and 'we all arrived, and we all look good"
The teams were chosen and uniforms given.

Our team chose the Blue devils as a name and are going up against the "The Blood Thirsty Hound Dogs " And the " Green Machine"

What a start for the Blue devils, In 2nd place just 5 points of the leaders, but even more importantly the swimming was good. Attention to detail was what was asked for and that's what the swimmers delivered. We have a well balance team with a good mix if young and old swimmers

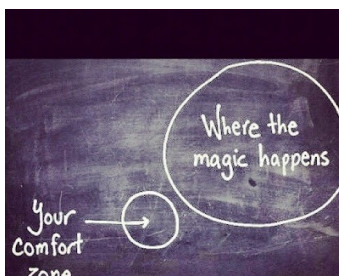

Swimmer of the session

Islah Kerr-Aim was our swimmer of the session. Her 800 free was a huge PB and gained the team some very valuable points. The swim really showed her determination to stick to the task at hand Coming home strong in a well paced swim.

Figure 2 Islah would like to compete at an international level in open water swimming

Thought of the Day.

Food is great,
Parents of the Taupo Club have hosted us and the food has not stopped coming.
Something the Boys have enjoyed

Team captains Chosen.
Braidy Lidington and Cole McDowell have already showed that they were the right choice for these roles by leading by example both in and out of the water. Cole showed why he is considered one of the top age group boys in our central swimming with class display destroying the field in the 400Im while Braidy was asked to step up and swim a swim that was way out of her comfort Zone.
This she did without a word of complaint swimming a big PB in the Process.

Only team to get their banner up.

Tomorrow
2 swim sessions, one in Taupo in the morning and then travel to Whakatane where we race in the PM.
Goal for day
Loose the Beast.
